Cuts in NATO Opposed

Ike, Mollet in Agreement on Need To Maintain Strong Defenses

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet have agreed to oppose proposed cuts in NATO forces, informed sources said today.

The sources said the two leaders agreed it is necessary to maintain North Atlantic Treaty Organization strength at present levels at this time because Russia continues to be as great a threat as ever.

European NATO members—particularly Britain — are under considerable pressure at home to cut their NATO commitments as a means of trimming defense expenses.

The President and Mollet today plan a second and final round of their talks which started Tuesday. Mollet and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau planned to meet earlier with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Create Authority

Besides current NATO plans for European economic integration, Tuesday's talks covered creation of an atomic energy authority for Europe (Euratom) and the Middle East.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said afterward a good deal of agreement was reached on problems other than the Middle East. He said he could not elaborate on the Middle East crisis.

American officials said later both the United States and France are seeking a solution of Middle East problems without resorting to UN sanctions against Israel.

The opening of the Eisenhower-Mollet talks — first since the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt—was capped by the White House announcement that French President Rene Coty will visit the United States in June.

The announcement emphasized the efforts being made to repair Franco-American relations which were badly shaken when France and Britain broke with the United States to strike at Egypt.

Cars Damaged in 'Chain' Accident

An unusual accident resulted in minor damage to four cars yesterday in Monessen at 5 p. m.

City Police said a "chain reaction" was set off when Grace Lassiter, of 634 Locust street, backed out of a garage at 30 Donner avenue.

The Lassiter car struck an auto owned by John Sistek, of Clairton. The Sistek car was forced into a new car owned by the John L. Gibson Garage.

In turn, the Gibson car was pushed into an auto owned by Lester Crum, of 475 Reed avenue.

Authority Asks $2,500 For Plans, Surveys

The Monessen Redevelopment Authority today requested City Council to appropriate $2,500 to the Authority in order that it can prepare plans and surveys and retain Community Planning Services as a consultant.

A. Edward Wilen, chairman, told Council the Authority proposes to submit applications to both the state and federal governments requesting "redevelopment grants" which are now available under the Urban Redevelopment Law.

He said, however, that before these applications can be approved, it will be necessary to submit various plans and surveys.

Wilen said the Authority has no funds available, hence its request for the $2,500.

Mayor Hugo J. Parente informed Wilen Council would be "happy to furnish the money but it must first examine the budget to see where the money will come from."

Parente said he believes Council will have a "favorable" answer by the next meeting on March 13. It advised the Authority to continue with surveys and planning.

Turning to other business, Council authorized advertisements for bids for a new garbage truck and street sweeper.

Councilman John Kotch, Jr., director of public safety, said his department has a used truck it can trade in on a new truck.

Councilman David Victoria, director of streets and public improvements, said the approximate cost of a new sweeper is $9,000. He said it can be paid for over a three-year period.

Victoria also said his depart-

Second prize, also a $25 bond, goes to Barbara Destefon, Charleroi High, and third prize, also a $25 bond, to Barry Miller, of Bellmar High.

Jane Hill, of Monongahela High, won $10 in cash for fourth prize while $5 cash prizes for fifth and sixth went to Dolores Gernot, Charleroi, and John Hewitt, Bellmar.

Monongahela Valley newspaper editors served as judges.

Awards were contributed by the Charleroi Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and Jaycee organizations of Charleroi.

Miss Johnston's essay will be submitted to Harrisburg for consideration with other area winners in the state competition.

Parente Says no, but Petitions At City Hall Indicate 'Slate'

A probable slate of candidates to be supported in the Democratic primary by the party's Monessen organization, headed by Mayor Hugo J. Parente, was on view at the City Hall today.

Publicly, Mayor Parente is claiming that there is no slate — as yet. He told a Daily Independent reporter this morning:

"We don't have a slate, and we haven't decided whether we will have one. We are going to wait until all the petitions are in. Then we'll know who's running and who isn't."

Nominating petitions can be filed any time until March 18.

But visitors to the office of City Clerk Francis Crum, the Mayor's right-hand man in politics, could see the shape of things to come even today. Crum has available on the counter for signature by qualified Democratic electors only the petitions of candidates already holding office in the city or in Westmoreland County or known to have the blessing of the city-county organization. These are:

For Mayor — Parente.

For Council — David Victoria and John Molnar, both incumbents seeking reelection.

For City Controller — James Tucci, incumbent.

For City Treasurer — John P. Spielman, incumbent.

For Judge — Edward G. Bauer, incumbent, and Alexander Sculco, present District Attorney.

For District Attorney — Earl S. Keim, now an assistant D. A. and slated by the organization for the top post.

For Coroner — Stephen Yoney, incumbent.

For Clerk of Courts — Raymond Turner, incumbent and son of Chief County Detective Arthur "Buddy" Turner, long a recognized boss of the organization.

Parente was asked whether any and all candidates are welcome to leave their petitions at the City Clerk's office for signatures.

"Yes," he replied. "This is a public building and we will be glad to provide the service.

Presumably, he did not except Republicans although no GOP candidates for local offices have made appearances so far. Monessen has not had an elected Republican office-holder for many years.

Conspicuous by its absence among the petitions on display at the Clerk's office was that of John R. Stieska, who is opposing Parente for the Democratic mayoralty nomination.

Asked whether he was aware of the service available at the City Hall, Stieska told The Independent he wasn't.

"Do you plan to put one of your petitions down there?" he was asked.

"I hardly think so," Stieska replied. "We have several petitions circulating and there doesn't seem to be any scarcity of signers. In fact, I'm amazed at the number

Israel Reported Ready To Leave Aqaba, but Wants to Keep Gaza

By UNITED PRESS

Israel was reported ready today to evacuate its positions along the Gulf of Aqaba, but a hitch developed in negotiations between Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban and U. N. Secretary — General Dag Hammarskjold over the Gaza Strip.

The United States hoped to solve the new impasse today by introducing a resolution in the U.N. General Assembly calling for United Nations control of both the Gaza Strip and the Israeli-held Sharm El Sheikh Area along the Aqaba Gulf.

The resolution would omit any direct call for sanctions against Israel, but the draft of the resolution was understood to carry a carefully worded clause warning that the assembly would consider sanctions if Israel persisted in its refusal to quit Egyptian territory.

Armistice Terms Disputed

Eban, who broke off his talks Tuesday with Hammarskjold and rushed to Washington for a 90-minute conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, was expected to see Hammarskjold again today in New York.

Israeli sources said in Jerusalem that Hammarskjold's "legal niceties" were blocking a Gaza settlement.

They defined these "legal niceties" as Hammarskjold's insistence that the 1949 armistice agreement ending the Palestine war provided for Egyptian occupation of the Gaza Strip and that he could do nothing about it.

Israel's position was that it will not give Egypt control of the disputed territory because of the long series of Egyptian Fedayeen raids launched on Israel from the strip in violation of the armistice agreement.

Sanctions Big Question

President Eisenhower discussed the Middle East situation Tuesday with French Premier Guy Mollet and shortly afterwards American officials said both countries were seeking a solution of Mideast problems without resorting to U.N. sanctions against Israel.

U.S. officials did not rule out the possibility the United States later might support some form of punitive measures against Israel. But they believed the coolness toward sanctions by a majority of U.N. members showed in advance punitive sanctions would not be effective.

The U.S. delegation to the United Nations spent the morning lining up co-sponsors for its new resolution. American sources said India, Brazil and Colombia were prepared to co-sponsor the draft which would follow the general lines of a four-point program outlined Tuesday by Lester B. Pearson, Canadian minister of external affairs.

State Puts Off Plans to Repair U. S. Route 6

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Deaprtment has postponed its plans for improving U.S. Route 6 across northern Pennsylvania until the federal government accepts department plans for construction of the Keystone Shortway.

The department has proposed inclusion of the shortway—which would traverse the state from Sharon to Stroudsburg — in the state's 1,446-mile interstate highway system which will be financed mainly by federal funds.

Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler informed the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads Tuesday that no further action will be taken on the $29,000,000 improvement program for U.S. 6 until the federal bureau approves the proposed Sharon-Stroudsburg road.

"In view of the prolonged delay in the acceptance of the Keystone Shortway in lieu of U.S. 6 as an interstate route, I am reluctant to proceed any further with improvements to U.S. Route 6," Lawler said in a letter to J. L. Stinson, district engineer for the federal bureau.

"Due to the uncertainties and anticipated prolonged delay in finalizing the east-west interstate route, I have no alternative but to defer action on improvements of U.S. 6."

The department recommended construction of the Sharon-Stroudsburg road as part of the interstate system rather than U.S. 6 because of an estimated $12,815,000 savings in construction and because it would be 45 miles shorter than the other route, Lawler said.

Turncoat Quits Reds Soured by Hungary Action

HONG KONG (UP)— American turncoat Samuel D. Hawkins returned to the free world from Red China today, saying Russia's crushing of Hungary soured him on living in a Communist country.

The 24-year-old ex-soldier from Oklahoma City, Okla., who defected to Communist China after his capture during the Korean War, crossed the border into this British colony at 1 p.m. (11 p.m. EST Tuesday).

He was sober-faced when met by British, U. S. and Red Cross officials, but smiled broadly when he received newsmen at the Princes Hotel an hour later.

He frankly admitted he was a "turncoat."

Asked why he had left Communist China after three years, Hawkins said:

"Mostly because of the Hungarian situation," he said. "I did not like the way it came about. To me it seemed to be wanton killing by Soviet soldiers."

Take Steps to Repair Route 71

The Hempfield Township School Board is taking steps to have repairs made to Route 71 between West Newton and Greensburg, it was announced today.

A citizens group appeared before the Hempfield board Monday night urging that repairs be made immediately. The board authorized its solicitor to draw up a formal resolution favoring the repairs.

Spearheading the drive to arouse public opinion in an effort to have Route 71 improved is the Twin Run Civic Association.

According to statistics compiled by the Association, about 2,000 vehicles travel every day on this road, and approximately 2,300 students use it each day en route to area schools.

Five District Legislators Vote Against Sales Tax

(Story on Page 2)

Five of the 13 district members of the state House of Representatives voted against continuation of the 3 per cent sales tax Tuesday when the House approved the levy and other revenue raising measures by a 140-60 vote.

Here is how district legislators voted on the sales tax bill:

Against: Michael R. Flynn, J. Blatch Cummins, both of Washington; A. V. Capano, of Donora; Charles J. Jim, of Latrobe and James E. Lovett, of Trafford.

For: Robert Wheeler, Jr., of Fairchance; Nicholas Kornick, E. Gadd Snider, both of Uniontown; C. O. Williams, of West Brownsville, R. D. 1; Anthony J. Petrosky, of Slickville; Charles J. Mills, of Greensburg and H. J. Maxwell, of Monessen.

Pat C. Trusio, of Uniontown, was recorded as not voting.

School to Hold Salk Inoculation Program Here

An anti-polio inoculation program for Monessen public school students will be carried out sometime next month, Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent, announced today.

Dr. Pallone said questionnaires will be sent to parents to determine if their children have been inoculated. Many school children received anti-polio vaccine shots during last Saturday's "polio day" program sponsored by the Westmoreland County Medical Society.

The school physician and nurses will administer the shots at local schools, Dr. Pallone said.

The exact date or dates of the program will be announced when the questionnaire forms have been filled out and returned.

District Man Hurt in Crash

A Perryopolis man was injured in a three-car accident on Route 119 near Dunbar early last night.

Admitted to Connellsville State Hospital was Steve Chubboy, 60, operator of a pickup truck which collided with a car driven by Vincent A. Kraynak, of Dunbar, R. D. 1.

Police said Chubboy pulled onto Route 119 from a side road directly into the path of the Kraynak car. The Kraynak car struck Chubboy forcing his truck into another auto, owned by Margaret Ann Nicholson, of Connellsville, who was stopped on the opposite side of the road.

Perryopolis Man Held for Court

Lawrence Reoli, of Perryopolis, was indicted yesterday by a Fayette County grand jury on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under a period of suspension.

Reoli was arrested Dec. 23, 1956 at Star Junction by Police Chief John Lesho. He was operating a truck on Route 51 at the time.

The grand jury ignored two other counts in the information: driving under the influence of an intoxicating beverage and resisting arrest.

No Change in Auto Tolls Planned; Board To Study Proposals

HARRISBURG (UP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission today studied recommendations for cutting truck tolls from 10 to 50 per cent because of the continuous decline in truck traffic, particularly on the eastern part of the toll road system.

Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., Rochester, Pa., consulting engineers for the commission late Tuesday recommended that tolls for trucks be dropped an average of 10 per cent in the mountainous central sector of the turnpike and be slashed as much as half on the Delaware River Extension. Truck traffic has continued heavy on the old sections of the turnpike but has fallen off sharply on the other extensions.

At the same time the engineering firm suggested that no changes in present passenger car tolls be considered until the incomplete Northeastern Extension to the toll road between Scranton and Philadelphia has been in full operation for at least a year. The northern part of the extension is slated to be opened later this year.

Should the commission follow the recommendations, the average toll for trucks traveling the full east-west length of the turnpike would be lowered about 22 per cent.

Cuts Would Vary

On the average the rates for heavier trucks would be reduced slightly more than 10 per cent on the section west of the Irwin interchange to the Ohio line, 30 per cent on the Northeastern Extension and 35 per cent on the Philadelphia Extension between the Carlisle and Valley Forge interchanges.

As an example, the heaviest trucks now crossing the state by the toll road pay $25.10 to travel from the Ohio line across the Delaware River Bridge. Under the proposed toll schedule, the fare would be cut to $20.30. But the rate cut would average out to only about seven-tenths of a cent a mile between Irwin and Breezewood interchanges while it would be 2.4 cents per mile from the Harrisburg to the Valley Forge interchange.

The proposed new schedule was disclosed at an open hearing in the commission's new central headquarters at the Harrisburg East Interchange. The session was attended by representatives of trucking associations, large truck firms and automobile clubs.

The Baker firm warned that tolls for passenger cars using the Northeastern and Delaware Rivtr extensions may have to be increased if those sections of the road do not bring in enough revenue to cover bond commitments in the future. But the firm said that before any move to increase passenger car tolls, the commission should have the benefit of a full year's experience with a completed Northeastern Extension.

How the eastern section is failing to come up to financial expectations was indicated in another section of the report.

According to Baker's estimates those parts of the toll system built under the 1952 bond indenture—the Delaware River Extension, the Delaware River Bridge and the Northeastern Extension—will yield only 40 per cent of the revenue forecast for them while maintenance costs have been half again as high as predicted. This covers the period from the opening of the first section of the Northeastern Extension last year.

Myers, 45, of Massapequa, L.I., New York, will assume his new duties March 18.

The governor's office said Myers has been active in newspaper and magazine work for more than 20 years and did public relations work for Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1956 presidential campaign.

A former correspondent for Yank magazine during World War II, Myers also was co-editor of a book "Yank—the G.I. Story of the War." He is currently associated with the Committee for Economic Development, a research organization.

No Tax Increase for County This Year

The proposed 1957 budget for Westmoreland County calls for expenditures of $2,706,659 in its general fund.

This is an increase of $157,321.34 over the 1956 budget of $2,549,337.66.

The proposed budget, which must be formally approved by March 31, is based on retention of the current tax rate of eight mills — six mills for the general fund and two mills for the institutional district.

No general wage increases are contemplated.

Of the total amount of receipts anticipated this year, $1,644,000 is expected from real estate taxes, and money at interest, with the balance coming from other sources of county income.

The county found its finances in good condition at the start of the present fiscal year with cash and securities totaling $624,504.80 compared with $468,189.86 at the beginning of 1956.

The Insutution District budget anticipates expenditures of $720,715.66, which is $209,409.75 greater than actual expenditures in 1956.

One of the items in the budget calls for the expenditure of $166,500 for the development of the Latrobe Airport this year.

The County Commissioners have also granted an appropriation of $15,000 for the recently created Westmoreland County Planning Commission.

The budget is now open for public inspection at the courthouse.

Damage estimates mounted toward the $8 million mark today in a rash of industrial and residential fires.

At least four persons were killed and two others were missing in the blazes since Tuesday.

One of the victims was an 18-month-old baby boy who was killed in a Cleveland, Ohio, tenement fire late Tuesday. Fifteen persons fled the flames and three of them were injured when they jumped from windows.

Earlier, three-fourths of Cleveland's fire-fighting force battled a blaze at the Glidden Paint Co. plant. Company officials set damages at $2.5 million.

Another industrial fire destroyed the four-story, two-block long Pequanoc Rubber Co. plant at Butler, N.J. Three firemen were injured, and damage was estimated at more than $3 million.

A blaze Tuesday night in the business district at Parsons, W. Va., destroyed three stores and a house and damaged five other buildings. There were no reports of injuries and no immediate estimate of damages. Firemen said the flames may have been touched off by lightning during a thunderstorm.

Firemen had to dodge whizzing bullets in battling a blaze that destroyed a four - story business and apartment block in the center of Meriden, Conn., Tuesday.

The flames touched off live ammunition in a sporting goods store and bullets flew dangerously close to the fire-fighters. Two persons were missing in the blaze which caused damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

Wins $10,000; Kills Elephants With Bow, Arrow

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—The wife of a big game hunter said today her husband won a $10,000 bet by bagging a couple of elephants in Africa with a bow and arrow.

Mrs. William Negley said she received a cablegram from her husband who reported he "killed two elephants according to wager."

Negley, an independent oilman, had a 10-1 beat with William K. Carpenter Jr. of Delaware that he could kill an elephant with a bow and arrow. Carpenter was reported to have insisted that it would be impossible to bag an elephant with such a primitive weapon.

Under terms of the bet, the San Antonio Witte Museum will receive Negley's winnings if Negley's claims are confirmed. Had Negley lost, he would have had to donate $1,000 to the museum.

Negley reported to his wife that he killed the elephants in the Belgian Congo. The bet called for the bagging of only one elephant, but Negley bragged he killed the second for good measure.

The San Antonio sportsman was packing a 100-pound maple and fiberglass bow with 28-inch steel-tipped arrows.

Pardons Board Probe Opens

Secretary Is First Witness

HARRISBURG (UP)—The secretary of the state Pardons Board was slated to be the first witness today at the formal opening of a special legislative investigation of clemency appeals granted by the board.

Frank Hean, secretary of the board since April, 1955, testified at a closed meeting of the special Senate-House committee last week and was called back, according to Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Cameron), committee chairman, "to clear up a few things." He will be accompanied by Attorney General Thomas D. McBride, also a Pardons Board member.

Also scheduled to testify was Harold Hughes, Delaware County assistant district attorney who figured in the conviction of Michael Caserta, a Philadelphia gambler whose sentence commutation by the board is one of several cases being studied by the investigators this week.

Caserta was convicted of gambling and conspiracy in Delaware County Court July, 1954, and was sentenced to 17 to 35 months by Judge William R. Toal. Gov. George M. Leader commuted the sentence to 11 months on the recommendation of the Pardons Board, over the protests of Judge Toal.

Other Cases

The board will also take up the cases of five Philadelphians convicted in Delaware County of destroying public property and sentenced to two years imprisonment beginning Oct. 1955.

The five, Joseph D'Antonio, Joseph J. Dendorfer, Pasquale DiMarco, Charles Rainier, and Joseph McSorley, received commutations of sentence four months later.

Judge Toal and a colleague, Judge Arthur P. Bretherick, will testify concerning the two cases on Thursday.

The committee will also push its investigation of the Darcy case which sparked the inquiry into board activities. Darcy and two accomplices were convicted of murder during a 1947 tavern holdup in Bucks County. After numerous appeals, their death sentences were commuted to life imprisonment last September.

The House-sponsored resolution setting up the investigation said that "The opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and in other recent cases."

WHO'S MOSCOW? — Communist Secretary Eugene Dennis holds his hand to his head before the Senate internal security hearing in Washington, where he ridiculed the idea that "directives or instructions" were received from Moscow. He refused to answer a lot of questions, such as whether "advice" was relayed to American Communists from abroad. The committee is trying to learn the meaning of recent policy decisions taken by N. S. Reds.

The Baker report also contended that major economies could be effected by the commission in the operation and maintenance of the toll highway system.

"From a review of operating and maintenance expense and long-term contract expense of the commission, it is obvious to us that it is elaborately and expensively maintained," the report said.

Baker, himself, explained that such economies might be effected in the road's radio communication system, which cost $3,000,000 and $250,000 a year to maintain; in the $750,000 annual rental of international Business Machine equipment and in the gasoline and restaurant concessions which the commission leases.

The consulting engineers recommended that the new truck toll schedules be approved and put into operation by July 1. But Merritt A. Williamson, acting commission chairman, said no action is planned for several weeks until the commission has time to study the report and get public reaction.

'Rock and Roll' Is Philippine Wedding Dance

MANILA, The Philippines (UP) —Hold everything — the birthplace of the "rock and roll" has been discovered.

It's the official wedding dance of The Philippines' Ifugao Tribe high in the mountains of northern Luzon and they have been doing it for hundreds of years

Eyewitnesses say Bill Haley and Elvis Presley have things to learn from the Ifugaos.

Things get started at the wedding feast when the band whips up a fast beat with wooden slabs and gongs.

As the gongs get faster the pace gets faster. They have the "giddyaping," the rocking, the rolling and the pelvis movements.

For side effects, the bride wears an idol on her head and carries a white chicken in her left hand The groom wears a bolo knife and also carries a chicken. Both wear chains of ornaments around their necks, wrists and ankles.

The wedding guests eat coast carabaos and pork, drink rice wine, beat the gongs faster and watch the fun. It goes on most of the night.

And eyewitnesses say that compared to the sizzling hot modern Ifugao style, the American version of the "rock and roll" is strictly square.

Great French Horse Is Dead

PARIS (UP) — Pharis II, France's greatest race horse whose offspring have won 256 races in England and France, has died at the Fresnay-le-Buffard stud farm, the site of his birth 21 years ago.

The horse, winner of some of the largest pre-war races, was seized by the invading German armies in 1940 and spent the war years in Germany. He was returned to his owner, Marcel Boussac, in 1945 and spent his remaining years in stud.

Woman Arrested in Shooting of Detective

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Shirley Cavanaugh, a 28-year-old North Braddock woman with a record of arrests for prostitution, was charged with assault with intent to kill today in the after-hours club shooting of the detective in charge of the city vice and narcotics bureau.

The victim, Detective Allen Carnahan, was wounded through the thighs as he sat at the bar of the Athletic Boosters Assn. in the downtown district early Sunday. At first, Carnahan said he had accidentally shot himself with his service pistol, but he changed the story and named Miss Carnahan, whom he had arrested twice, as the gun wielder.

Arraigned before Magistrate John Fiorucci, the woman, who gave herself up to police Tuesday night, was ordered held for court in $5,000 bond.

Asked by the magistrate if she admitted the shooting, Miss Cavanaugh replied: "I'm not saying one way or the other."

In a telephone call to the Pittsburgh Press shortly before her surrender, the woman said she had known Carnahan for at least two years and had gone to the club at his insistence.

"He was waving the gun under my nose while in a drunken stupor and I hit his hand away from me and the gun went off," she told the Press.

At this morning's hearing, Asst. Police Supt. Lawrence J. Maloney said Miss Cavanaugh had refused to make any statements to detectives following her surrender.

In her statement to the Press, the woman said she now was ending "the rockiest of love affairs She added that she "still can't believe he said I shot him."

Carnahan told his superiors that Miss Cavanaugh had "been bothering him," but that their meeting in the club was happenstance. He said he was walking past the bar when the woman stopped him and started an argument.

The officer said that when he told her to leave him alone, she grabbed his service pistol from his hip pocket and fired. The bullet pierced his right thigh and passed through his groin into his left thigh. He was reported in good condition at Allegheny General Hospital today.

Maloney said that as head of the narcotics squad, Carnahan was forced to associate with "unsavory" persons and that the day he was shot he had been leading a six-man squad on a drive to wipe out prostitution in the downtown district of the city.

Carnahan recently attended the FBI narcotics school at Washington and received the highest grades in the class.

ment will start work within two weeks on increasing the present sewer facilities in Seneca Hollow He said the sewers will either be replaced or supplemented.

Victoria stated he would have the work completed before the anticipated spring rains. In the past, nearly every heavy rain has caused floods in the hollow.

Norbert G Bell, State Highways engineer in the district, will meet with Council and utility representatives Monday at 1:30 p. m. to discuss the proposed widening of Schoonmaker avenue from Sixth street to the Charleroi-Monessen Bridge. There is a possibility that a starting date for work on the project may be announced Monday.

City Engineer John Kotch, III, told Council the estimated cost for sewers on Boston avenue would be near $6,700. The cost survey was made after a group of residents in the area petitioned Council at the last meeting to install more sewers.

Council will inspect the area before making a decision.

Only 100 signatures are required to put a mayoralty candidate's name on the ballot, but it is the usual practice to get many more than the required number.

Also missing among the petitions at City Hall was that of Joseph M. Loughran, former assistant D. A. who is running for judge on an anti-Turner platform.

Mayor Parente has not yet publicly declared himself in the judgeship fight, but it has been expected that he would have to line up for Judge Bauer and Scuico even though he has been on personally friendly terms with Loughran

House Hoping 'Tax Program' to Clear by Middle of March

HARRISBURG (UP) — Republican legislative leaders today set their sights on final passage of their "no new tax" revenue program in the Legislature by mid-March.

The $995,000,000 package to continue big revenue raisers cleared the House Tuesday behind bipartisan support. The GOP estimated yield was $48,000,000 more than the administration total for the same taxes.

The differences were in the returns predicted for the 3 per cent sales tax and the 6 per cent corporate net income tax. The administration totaled the sales tax at $448,000,000 without the stamp plan method of collection while the GOP figured $480,000,000. The Republicans count on a $330,000,000 return from the CNI tax while the administration placed the total at $314,000,000.

The House Republican leadership reiterated the GOP's intention to hold the line against new taxes. The package, plus existing taxes now on the statute books, would bring in $1.5-billion according to Republican figures, which is about $100,000,000 less than Gov. George M. Leader requested in his budget message.

The package calls for reenactment of the sales tax at its current 3 per cent rate for another two years and elimination of the proposed stamp plan collection method. It passed the House by a 140-60 vote.

The other bills, together with the GOP estimated revenue and votes:

—The 1 per cent real estate transfer tax ($41.5-million), 180-22.

—The 6 per cent corporate net income tax ($330-million), two bills, 202-0.

—The 14-mill tax on gross receipts of public utilities ($32-million), 200-2

—The cigaret tax at five cents a pack ($111.5-million), 191-11. The one penny for flood relief would also go into the General Fund instead of a special fund.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate legislation to extend the gasoline tax another two years at five cents a gallon instead of six cents, dropping the extra penny "flood emergency" tax on May 31 instead of Sept. 13 as scheduled. Republican leaders estimated the yield at $300,000,000. However, the money goes into the Motor License Fund rather than the General Fund to finance Highways Department projects.

The governor is reported ready to ask the Legislature to continue the emergency gasoline levy to meet state financial commitments in the new federal interstate highway program.

Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said his group would probably report the revenue bills to the Senate floor for action by March 15.

Kessler said if any amendments are proposed they will first be cleared with the House leadership to avoid any possible prolonged conflicts. Senate Majority Leader Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford) shared Kessler's view. "There may be some minor changes," Mahany said, "but I don't think there will be any which will go to the meat of the tax."

House Democrats, while not objecting to the necessity of the revenue bills, protested passing them before the joint Senate-House Appropriations committees carved out the state's financial blueprint in their current review of the governor's budget needs.

Extra Police Trying To Halt Milk Riots

NEW YORK (UP)— Extra police in three states tried today to prevent further violence in the spreading milk strike.

Increased incidents of violence and milk dumping were reported Tuesday in dairy areas of upstate New York, northern New Jersey and Pennsylvania, as farmers withheld milk from processing plants for the third day.

The boycott, started Sunday by the 3,200-member Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild to back demands for higher raw milk prices, was partially effective in reducing the milk supply to 12 million consumers in the metropolitan New York area.

Metropolitan processors reported some 950,000 quarts of milk, or about 10 per cent of their regular supply, had been withheld in the last two days by the striking farmers.

The milk market administrator's office reported that milk had been partially or wholly withheld Tuesday from 26 processing plants in New York state 14 in New Jersey and eight in Pennsylvania. There are 381 such plants servicing the metropolitan area.

City officials, however said that the stoppage "has no effect" on fresh milk supplies. Some processors diverted milk usually used for cheese, milk and ice cream to fill their fresh milk needs.

The Rev. John W. Dorney, executive director of the guild, said today about 10,000 farmers had joined the boycott. He said he met Tuesday night with representatives of the 2,000-member Dairy Farmers of America in an effort to enlist their support.

Dorney said the DFA and the guild could not agree on a price for milk, but he said they would lend their sympathy to the guild. He refused to say if they would joint the boycott.

Dorney said the guild is seeking a price of $5.75 per hundredweight for raw milk. He said that price would guarantee farmers about 10 cents a quart, instead of "just breaking even."

House Group to Approve Civil Rights Program

WASHINGTON (UP) — A House Judiciary Committee today appeared set to approve a new civil rights program.

The program was expected to follow the lines recommended by President Eisenhower.

The subcommittee recommended a similar program last year. The House passed it, but it died in the Senate.

The administration bill would create a bi-partisan Civil Rights Commission and a Justice Department civil rights division. It also would strengthen protection of voting rights and authorize the government to seek Federal Court action directly to prevent civil rights violations.

The House subcommittee ended hearings on civil rights legislation. Similar hearings continued before the Senate Constitutional rights subcommittee.

Other congressional news:

Rackets: Senate rackets investigators summoned a confessed Portland, Ore., racketeer and bootlegger — James B. Elkins—for questioning. They said he would tell how the Teamsters union helped two Seattle gamblers move into his territory.

Doctrine: Sen. Richard B. Russell claimed "substantial support" for his proposal to slash economic and arms aid from the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said he might call a Saturday session to speed action on the doctrine.

Sports: A bi-partisan congressional drive to bring professional baseball under the federal anti-trust laws got underway. Bills to do it were introduced by Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee and Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (Calif.), a key GOP member of the committee.

Appropriations: The House cut $60.8 million in passing an appropriations bill to operate the Interior Department and Agriculture Department's Forestry Service during fiscal 1958. The bill—minus the 12 per cent cut — totals $454,395,000. It was sent to the Senate.

Committees Named By Church Society

Committees were named at a recent meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Cajetan R.C. Church and plans outlined for the year's program.

Highlighting the program will be a Holy Name Parish Rally to be held in June.

The first activity to be conducted by the men will be a bake sale on Sunday after all masses in the church hall. The women will prepare the baked goods, but the men will be on hand to conduct the sale. The baked goods will be received at the church hall on Saturday evening.

Files for Divorce

A divorce complaint has been filed in the Fayette County courts by Evelyn L. Fitzwater, of Smock, charging desertion, against Chester L. Fitzwater, Sr., of Belle Vernon. They were married Dec. 26, 1946, in Fairhope.

Marine Guilty; Conviction to Undergo Review

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (UP)—Marine Corps officials today begin reviewing a conviction, rank-reduction and $150 fine of a battle-tested drill instructor accused of unlawfully grabbing a recruit by his shoulders.

A special court-martial Tuesday found former S-Sgt. William E. Rich, of Canton, N.C., rated an outstanding Leatherneck in combat, guilty of grabbing Pvt. Kenneth Allen Benjamin of New York.

The court-martial board of three officers and two enlisted men cleared Rich of three charges of slapping recruits under his command at this Marine Corps training center. He was reduced one grade to buck sergeant.

The Marine Corps announced the conviction of former Sgt. Clifton L. Jones of Pensacola, Fla., in an earlier trial by a summary court martial on a charge of striking a recruit.

Jones was reduced to private first class, fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the brig for striking Pvt. James Toper of Watertown, N.Y., in disobedience of a standing order not to lay hands on recruits.

Suggestion Is Worth While

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — Veteran Eastman Kodak Co. employe George Mallory has found that it pays to have ideas. Especially when they apply to work.

An assembler in the firm's Camera Works plant, Mallory has been awarded more than $7,000 by Kodak for 14 of 42 suggestions he's made and the company has approved.

His first idea, submitted in 1951, netted him only two dollars. But a recent one really paid off handsomely.

Mallory received an original award of $850 in 1955 when the company put into use his idea which resulted in faciliating an assembly operation on the firm's Brownie movie projector. Late this year, Kodak awarded him an additional $3,889 based on savings calculated after Mallory's suggestion had been in use for one year.

Special Service At St. Luke's

The Rev. Henry Kaugas, of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Warren, O., and president of the Ohio Pennsylvania Conference of the Suomi Synod, will be guest speaker at St. Luke's Lutheran Church tomorrow evening at 7:30.

A social hour, sponsored by the Ladies Aid, will follow. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pucila will be hosts.

CUSTODY WITNESS — Identified only as "Mr. Joseph," this man, hooded like a refugee congressional witness, is shown testifying in Philadelphia Municipal court. The case: A mother wanting custody of her two daughters, to take them back to Czechoslovakia. The witness told of Russian cruelty.

Crab Season In California Is Going Well

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) —Catch averages indicate West Coast crabmen will bring in more than 10 million pounds of crab this season.

The Redwood Empire Association reported that a new variety of crab, the Dungeness, is now appearing on the market, the special delight of seafood gourmets.

The Dungeness in its larva stage is only as big as a grain of sand, but within three to four years it reaches the legal size of seven inches.

Recent studies of crabs show that most of them remain near the spot where they were born in the ocean. Biologists have tagged crabs and found that although a couple crawl 30 miles within a month, most always remain where they were deposited at birth. This explains why West Coast crab fishing is concentrated along a stretch of California's coast from Mendocino County to the Oregon border.

Leader Names County Boards

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader has asked the Senate to confirm these appointments to county boards of assistance in western Pennsylvania:

Allegheny County — Wilbur L. Newstetter Jr., 658 Pennridge Rd. Pittsburgh, until Dec. 31, 1958, replacing Dean Stanton C. Crawford, Pittsburgh, who resigned.

Crawford County — Mrs. Jeannette V. Hampton, 511 N. First St. Titusville, until Dec. 31, 1958, replacing Mrs. Margaret D. Mitchell of Titusville, who resigned.

Forest County—Mrs. Hilda H. Wright, E. Hickory, until Dec. 31, 1959, replacing Mrs. Louise E. Phillips, Endeavor, who resigned.

Famed Producer, B. P. Schulberg, Dies of Stroke

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Movieland today mourned the death of B. P. Schulberg, the producer who discovered Shirley Temple and who was once the mightiest movie mogul of them all.

Schulberg, father of the author Budd Schulberg, died of a stroke Tuesday in Miami, Fla. He was 65.

A colorful man, who once earned $9,500 weekly as chief of production at Paramount Studios, Schulberg's later years were marked by disappointment and failure in the movie industry he helped build.

In October, 1949, he ran an ad in the motion picture trade papers asking for work.

The ad was addressed to the Warner Brothers, Darryl Zanuck and other film bigwigs. At the time, he said, "I don't mind crawling on my knees to people who used to be my assistants. I'll take any kind of job."

Discoverer of such stars as Sylvia Sidney, Gary Cooper, Claudette Colbert and Fredric March, Schulberg once hired Producer David O. Selznick as an assistant. He personally produced "Wings," "The Way of All Flesh" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

After his son, Budd, published the novel "What Makes Sammy Run"—a satire on Hollywood's big shots — Schulberg lost his executive position at Paramount. Thereafter he worked in a few independent pictures.

The next meeting will be held March 24 at the Greensburg Hose Co. 6 club.

U. S. Minister To Hungary Is Called Home

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States announced today that Edward Thompson Wailes, American minister to Hungary, is being called home as a result of the dispute with Communist Hungary over his status.

The United States at the same time rejected charges by the Red regime that Wailes' activities "are irreconcilable with international practice."

In an official statement, the State Department said the dispute arose over presentation of Wailes' diplomatic credentials. He arrived in Budapest on Nov. 2 under instructions to present his credentials "promptly" to the Hungarian government then in power.

"It will be recalled that at this time Mr. Imre Nagy was Hungarian prime minister, and Soviet troops for the most part had been withdrawn from Budapest," the State Department said. "Before Mr. Wailes was able to present his credentials, however, the Soviet Union on Nov. 4 intervened in force in Hungary."

The State Department said Wailes, acting under instructions from Washington, refrained from presenting his credentials to the Communist government which ousted Nagy.

Not All as Dumb As They Appear

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) says whether "congressmen are as dumb as they look" just can't be answered categorically.

"Some of us have a deceptive appearance," Hoffman explained to the House Monday.

However, on a motion by Dora Richey and a second to the motion by Pete Cupples, it was voted to retain the present officers. They are: Johnston, chairman; Madge Hamilton, secretary; Charlie Richey, treasurer, and Elmer Gillingham, musical program director.

The organization discussed the weekend of services to be held from May 2 through May 5, with John D. DeBrine the principal speaker. Bible conference films will be shown some evening after service.

The next two meetings will be held in the Methodist Church. On March 3 the film "17" will be shown and on March 10 Gene Stanley, popularly known as "Mr. America", will be guest speaker.

Gruenther Says 'Other Side' Would Lose War

CHICAGO (UP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, predicted that if war were to break out today, "the other side would lose."

Gruenther, now president of the American Red Cross, said the United States' long-range airpower gives the free world "an overwhelming superiority."

However, Gruenther told members of the Inland Daily Press Assn. in a speech here Tuesday that he did not believe "we're going to have a third world war."

He also said the North Atlantic Treaty Organization(NATO) "is not falling apart," but added, "it is having difficulties and it is going to have difficulties."

Gruenther, who retired from the Army at the end of last year, said the system of alliances among the Western nations must be made to work.

The United States must demonstrate its wisdom in leading the free world, he said, because "there is a necessity for free nations to hang together."

"We must match sinister (Soviet) dedication with a cooperative dedication of our own," he said.

Another Obstacle

THE LONG EFFORT of the newspapers of Pennsylvania to get a final judicial determination of the famous Westmoreland County "photo ban" case has met another obstacle. The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to take immediate jurisdiction of the case in order to review a split decision by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court which in effect upheld three Westmoreland judges in a unique edict forbidding the taking of news pictures in the courthouse at Greensburg.

Apparently this is a technical refusal. As a practical matter the U. S. Supreme Court can take original jurisdiction in only a small fraction of the cases in which it is requested to do so. And counsel for the newspapers have indicated that they will now proceed through the lower federal courts in an effort to have the Pennsylvania Supreme Court's decision reversed eventually.

This case is a fair example of the lengths to which it is sometimes necessary to go in our judicial system in order to obtain some conclusive definition of the law. And it is fortunate, regardless of how one may feel about the issues involved in the "photo ban" case, that the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association has the means, the patience and the fortitude to pursue this matter to a conclusion.

The case has been discussed frequently in these columns, and our views need not be reiterated at this time. We simply say that it is tremendously important, from the standpoint of the public's right to know what goes on in the courts, to know whether judges have the right under the U. S. Constitution to restrain the use of photography as a tool of the free press outside the courtroom. That is the issue in this case, and the manner in which it is finally decided seems quite likely to have an influence upon the reporting of court news to the public.

Important Meeting

A MEETING of considerable importance for all the residents of Monessen, Charleroi and Donora will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Monessen High School auditorium.

Arranged by the Junior Women's Club of Monessen, the meeting will be for the purpose of deciding whether to press for the fluoridation of the water supply furnished by the Authority of the Borough of Charleroi to the three communities. The meeting is open to the public, and special invitations have been sent to organizations of all kinds to send official representatives.

An expert on the subject of fluoridation will be present to explain the process and to answer questions about it.

The Junior Women's Club is to be congratulated for taking the lead in this matter. For if fluoridation is all that medical, dental and public health authorities claim for it, it is something that the Valley communities served by the Charleroi Authority should have as promptly as possible.

The principal purpose of adding fluorides to public water supplies which do not contain them naturally is to reduce dental decay. Studies have shown that tooth decay in children is reduced by more than 60 per cent, and adults also benefit to a lesser extent.

Fluoridation has its opponents, however, and in many places they have been very vocal. In some they have also been effective in preventing the process from being adopted.

The matter needs careful study, to be sure. But the Junior Women's Club has already performed a useful serice in raising the subject for consideration.

It's Complicated

WHEN is a parking regulation not a parking regulation?

That question seems to have been posed by the latest rhubarb at the Monessen police station.

And the answer seems to be that a parking regulation is a regulation only sometimes. And it is up to the motorist to figure when it is and when it isn't.

This interesting little demonstration of how not to administer traffic rules came about last weekend when a group of policemen put tags on about 120 cars parked on downtown streets in the early morning hours. Signs plainly state that parking is forbidden in this area between 4 and 7 a. m.

But this was Sunday morning, and the rule had not previously been enforced Sunday mornings. So the motorists beseiged the police station with protests.

Mayor Parente, attributing the tagging operation to members of the police force politically unfriendly to him, invited all the "tagees" to get a refund even though they had actually violated the regulation.

When you drive a car in Monessen, it seems, you not only have to be able to read signs. You also have to be familiar with which regulations are being enforced and which aren't. And it also may help to know who's mad at whom at the City Hall.

Behind The News—

NATO Near Crisis; Cuts in Troops Due

By CHARLES M. McCANN

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has reached an important turning point.

Government economy programs, and increased emphasis on nuclear warfare, threaten to reduce NATO troop strength to the danger point.

The entire future of NATO may be decided at a series of Allied conferences which started in London today.

The talks will continue until May 2, when representatives of all 15 countries which belong to the Grand Alliance will meet in Bonn, the capital of Western Germany.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, new commander-in-chief of NATO forces, is alarmed over the outlook.

"Any significant reduction in troop strength could have most serious consequences for all of us," Norstad warned in a speech last week.

But it seems pretty sure that the reduction is coming.

Macmillan Started It

Harold Macmillan, Britain's new prime minister, started the ball rolling soon after he assumed office on Jan. 10. He named Duncan Sandys his defense minister, and gave him the authority to carry out a drastic economy program.

As part of the program, it was made known that Britain intends to cut the strength of its forces on the European continent, assigned to NATO, from 80,000 men to about 50,000.

It is now reported that Britain may pull back to its own territory part of its NATO tactical air force.

French Finance Minister Paul Ramadier announced last Thursday that France faces a financial crisis and must cut its defense budget.

France, West Germany and the United States all oppose the proposed British troop cut.

But France already has slashed its NATO troop contribution by sending its men to Algeria to fight the rebels.

West Germany's rearmament is proceeding slowly, and its draft term for the new army has been reduced from 18 months to 12.

There also are indications that West German Defense Minister Franz-Josef Strauss aims at reducing the total strength of the German defense forces from 500,000 men to 300,000.

Six Countries Talk Defense

The opening defense conference in London today is being attended by delegates of Britain, France, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Allied defense problems will be one topic for discussion in the conference which started in Washington today between President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet. Defense will play a big part also in the talks when the President and British Prime Minister Macmillan meet in Bermuda March 1.

There will be similar talks among Allied leaders in West European capitals as the occasion arises, leading up to the big NATO conference in May.

In defending reduction in defense spending, Allied leaders talk of increasing firepower, with the aid of atomic tactical weapons, instead of depending upon mere manpower.

The trouble is that Soviet Russia, which the NATO forces face in Western Europe, has both firepower and manpower which could rip through weakened Allied lines if war came.

Middle East Crisis Like Korea

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — On Sept. 16 last year while visiting the Near East, this writer made the following prediction: "An isolated war will break out, with the participation of England and France, but it will not develop into world war."

Mr. Pearson

This prediction required no reading of the crystal ball. It was easy to see what was coming. U. S. diplomats could see it just as well as a newspaperman.

Reason they could see it lies at the root of the present trouble between Egypt and Israel, namely almost half a billion dollars' worth of Russian arms stored away as a virtual Russian base in Egypt just across the Israeli border.

The situation was almost the same as that between North Korea and South Korea in 1950. War had to come in Korea. War also had to come between Egypt and Israel — unless the United States or the United Nations had stepped in first. The cause of both was indirect Communist aggression.

U. S. Surprised

Chief difference between Israel and Korea was that in Korea American intelligence was asleep and we let the Russians get the jump on us. In the Near East, Israeli intelligence was not asleep and Israel got the jump on the Russo-Egyptian combine.

Another difference was that Israel cleaned up in four days; the Korean War dragged on for two years. A final difference might have been that a long drawn-out war in the Near East probably would have dragged the United States in. The present proposed Eisenhower doctrine is aimed at helping nations threatened with Russian aggression, and the Russian arms stored in Egypt were indirect Russian aggression.

But since Israel took the first step and in four days cleaned up what would otherwise have been a long war, the United States now finds itself in the position of being sanctimonious about hailing Israel before the bar of the United Nations.

NOTE — It is only 30 minutes by jet fighter from Egypt to Tel Aviv, chief city of Israel. It could have been bombed to bits by Russia's vast fleet of new MIGS sent to Egypt, before the handful of Israeli fighters could have got off the runways.

Sherman Adams' Real Love

Assistant President Sherman Adams is probably the busiest man in Washington, far busier than his boss. But he took time off the other day for a lengthy interview in his office with Miss Mary Lou Prehn, queen of the Washington Ski Club's winter carnival, who had come to invite the former New Hampshire governor to an outing at Davis, W. Va.

"How long have you been skiing?" asked Adams.

"Since I was overseas with the Defense Department," replied Miss Prehn. "The reason I've come, Governor, is to ask you to become an honorary member of our club and to act as honorary chairman of our winter carnival."

"Well, I'd love to come," said Adams. "Do you mean to tell me that you've got snow down in Davis?"

"Governor," boasted Miss Prehn, "we've got lots of it."

"Well, and how is the new Republican Governor of West Virginia, Cecil Underwood, going to feel if a former governor of the great ski state of New Hampshire comes to his ski area?" inquired Adams.

"I think it would be great to have two governors there," parried the diplomatic Miss Prehn.

Adams, who has been portrayed as a cold fish by the press, warms several degrees when the conversation concerns skiing. As a student at Dartmouth College in 1902, he was president of the Outing Club, and he's been an enthusiast ever since.

Rented Skis

"Are those automtaic release bindings you have there?" Adams asked the ski queen, who was fully attired in skiing regalia.

"Gee, I don't know," answered Miss Prehn, obviously not as expert as the governor. "These skis are rented."

"No," noted Adams. "Those are conventional bindings. Do you like your type of wooden skis?"

"I really don't know the difference."

"Do you know what kind I've got I have a pair of Head skis. They're supposed to have 'built-in turns,' and I use Kandahar binding swith a front hitch."

Queen Prehn was obviously beyond her depth at this point.

NOTE — Besides the Governor himself, his wife, Rachel, son, Sam, and three daughters, Marion, Jean, and Sally, all know the difference between a skier's "Abstemm' and a "Gelandesprung." So do the Governor's two sons-in-law, Dartmouth graduates Bill Hallager and Bill Freese.

Washington Pipeline

Ambassador Charles Bohlen has returned to Washington after four years of brilliant reporting on Soviet Russia, and has asked to be reassigned to another post. Secretary Dulles, who has never liked Bohlen, has offered him a minor post in Latin America. Being an expert on Slavic languages with no knowledge of Spanish, Bohlen will probably resign . . . Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson, ex-Governor of Nebraska, will resign to go into private business . . . Without TVA's network of dams, the U. S. Weather Bureau estimates that recent floods in Tennessee would have been the worst in 74 years — 22 feet above flood stage, with damage surpassing $5,000,000 in Chattanooga alone. Yet Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and California public utilities are still opposing dams unless they have control . . . Sinclair Armstrong, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, wears his nickname "Sing" embroidered on his socks.

B. V. Lions Club Didn't Solicit For the Library

To the Editor:

Due to a misunderstanding on my part, I fear that we have given a wrong impression regarding one matter in connection with the recently conducted financial appeal on behalf of the Belle Vernon Public Library.

I should greatly appreciate your printing this letter which, I trust, will clarify the matter.

It should be made clear that the Belle Vernon Lions Club as an organization did not take part in the solicitation of funds. To do so would have been contrary to the Club's established policy.

We of the Library Board have enjoyed a most cordial relationship with the Lions over the years and feel that, in all fairness to them, we should make this correction.

Please accept our sincere thanks for the gracious support which your newspaper has given to the Library since its very beginning.

Ike Must Decide If Nixon's His Choice

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP)— The time is approaching when President Eisenhower must come to grips with another political decision.

He must make up his mind whether he wants to support Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Mr. Wilson

Perhaps Mr. Eisenhower will want to shirk that one.

But presidents, like kings, have responsibilities in common. One of them is to designate or, in the case of a king, to produce a bona fide, unquestioned heir.

A president's responsibility for an heir is more to his party than to the nation and has nothing to do with blood lines. It is a various responsibility, sometimes being without substance. In the case of President Eisenhower, however, it is real and substantial.

Old Guard Through

Mr. Eisenhower's responsibility to designate, rather than to produce, an heir is real and substantial because he is attempting to build a new party. He and others are telling the Old Guard Republicans that they are through, their policies outmoded and their appeal to the voters going if it has not already gone.

The President has set up the party of modern Republicanism, an Eisenhower party as clearly as the New Deal of the early 1930's was a Roosevelt party. The Roosevelt party never required an heir to succeed FDR. Mr. Roosevelt always was available and acceptable.

Mr. Eisenhower cannot solve this problem as FDR solved his. Mr. E will be benched after Jan. 20, 1961 by an amendment of the Constitution which forbids a third term. Like FDR, Mr. Eisenhower is sponsor of a new party which seeks to move party foundations considerably to the left of the old stand. He will urgently need someone to carry on to prevent the Republican Party from shifting back to its old moorings.

The time is coming and fairly soon, therefore, when a great many Republicans will be expecting Mr. Eisenhower to name his man. The pressure for that will build up and become terrific.

How can the President name his choice, however, in view of his public record. Through the long 1956 discussion of his vice presidential running mate, Mr. Eisenhower ducked a decision by holding that nomination of a vice presidential candidate was strictly the prerogative of the Republican National Convention.

The President created the impression that it would be discourteous or impertinent for him to interfere. How much more discourteous or impertinent would it be, then, for him to interfere by designating his choice for top spot on the 1960 ticket?

The President's alternatives are difficult. Shall he permit a free convention at the risk of witnessing the nomination of an Old Guardsman who would strangle the new-born party of modern Republicanism? Or, shall he take charge of the national convention and control it — as many presidents have done before him?

People Who Forget Have Fewer Worries

By MARGARET LATROBE

A nation of "forgetters" we seem to be in the frying pan or leaping absentmindedly into the flame — which someone forgot to turn out We are sure of faces, nowhere with names. Or sure of the name, we think the face has been lifted. "Haven't you dyed your hair or something?"

Mrs. Latrobe

"Most people," says psychologist Joseph Whitney, "are occasionally troubled by a compulsive feeling that they have forgotten something, such as turning off the gas, locking the door, etc., and may return to check these things before they can feel reassured. . ."

Well, that's bad, of course. Makes you late for appointments. These are the frying-pan folk.

In the flames and enjoying it hugely are a reverse order of citizens who never bolt a door, never remember where the car is parked, forget all about that cake in the oven — or find themselves facing the medicine cabinet but unable to recall why. And none of this worries them in the slightest.

This type forgetter never grows creases in his forehead, couldn't care less about who turned off the gas, or whether the dog got fed. They arrive promptly at the library to return books, minus the books. Stacked them in plain sight by the back door, but walked musingly past. Grocery list? At home on the desk — where else?

Such chaps drop Junior at the barber shop on Saturday mornings, promising to return forthwith. "I'll just park, cash a check and be right along," they say.

"So what if I did forget all about him! Let the kid learn self-reliance. When I was a boy, I walked to the barber shop . . ." And this one can walk home. Papa had things on his mind, not including Junior.

The checks all mailed? We forgot to sign 'em, but at least they got in on time. Clothes packed for that trip? Sure, nine pairs of shoes in cellophane bags — all for the left foot. Doors bolted against intruders? Yep. Come Spring, someone finds that unused side entrance hasn't been locked all Winter. Oh well.

My sympathies lie with this latter group. It would never occur to me that maybe the iron is on, a faucet running. What's the good of being orderly if you can't remember whether you did or didn't etc.? And while you're up, check the stove — I smell something burning.

Sweat Made in Lab Isn't Honest Kind

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)— Terrific Town, Inc. Department store dept.):

Reporter: Hello, Macy's? Bureau of Standards laboratory?

Male voice: That's right.

Reporter: Somebody left a note on my desk that you make sweat.

Voice: Yes.

Reporter: Do you?

Voice: Of course. We make up a gallon or so every once in a while—small quantities.

Reporter: How long you been doing this?

Voice: Oh, about 25, 30 years.

Reporter: Human sweat?

Voice: Yes, our chemist makes it. Both kinds.

Reporter: Uh, both, uh. . .?

Take Your Pick

Voice: Many years ago somebody analyzed somebody's perspiration. There's two kinds — one acid and one alkali. Depends on what you been eating and how your body is functioning. We make both types.

Reporter: What for?

Voice: For test purposes—testing shoe lining, or socks, or whatever comes in contact with perspiration. This is one of hundreds of types of tests we run—abrasion, weathering, bathing. . .

Reporter: How does the sweat test work?

Voice: Soak the stuff in it for some period of time. We always keep it on hand because we don't know when a test will come up.

Reporter: You keep both types on hand?

Voice: Yep.

Reporter: How do you keep it?

Voice: In a glass bottle. Sealed. We call it perspiration solution.

Reporter: Does it smell like perspiration?

Voice: I don't know.

The Nose Test

Reporter: Go over and smell it, will you please?

Voice. Hold on, I'll see; I don't really know.

(There is a long pause—shouting is heard in background.)

Voice: It doesn't have any particular odor.

Reporter: Maybe that's because it's not honest sweat.

Voice: What?

Reporter: Honest, as in, "His brow is wet with honest sweat."

Voice: Oh. Yes. Ha ha.

Reporter: Do you regard it as dishonest sweat?

Voice: Sir! This is Macy's! Besides, we go by rules set up by the National Bureau of Standards.

Reporter: Sure. I didn't mean it that way. Say, do you have anything else like this? Make saliva, maybe?

Voice: Well, we do have bugs here — beetles — to test fabrics. You know—against moth and bug bites.

Reporter: Well, thanks for sweating this out.

Voice: O.K. Bye.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Balser Miller, who died 18 years ago today, February 27, 1939.
You are not forgotten, loved one,
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes on we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by Wife, Daughters, Sons-in-law and Grandchildren

Many Poisonous Chemicals Are Used in Processing of Foods

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — More than 500 chemicals are being used to grow, process and package food. Traces of them enter your body with evry meal you eat.

Most of the chemicals are poisonous if consumed in too large a quantity over too long a period.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration, which is responsible for the safety of food and keeps a constant watch over the kind and quantity of chemicals introduced into it, believes the danger of your being poisoned slowly is more theoretical than real at present.

So far as it knows, no food chemical now in use in the United States is likely — in the amounts consumed — to poison you or to produce cancer.

No Positive Assurance

But food and drug officials admit that they cannot give you positive assurances on this. They simply don't have enough scientific knowledge about some of the food chemicals and their effect on the human body to be absolutely sure they are safe.

This is the situation behind one of the smallest but, to consumers, most significant items in President Eisenhower's federal spending budget for the 1958 fiscal year. The President asked for an extra $2.5 million for the food and drug administration to expand its research on food safety.

Officials said the proposed research would help to clear up some of the "uncertainty" which now surrounds the whole question of chemical contamination of food.

Some chemicals have always been used in food preparation—the classic example is sodium chloride, or common salt. But since World War II, the variety and quantity of chemicals that get into food has grown enormously as a result of a technological revolution in farming and processing industries.

"Tolerances" Established

Upwards of 200 chemicals are now being used by farmers as insecticides and insect repellants; as weed-killers and plant growth regulators; as medicines or growth stimulants for poultry and livestock; as crop protectants and fumigants. DDT is the most widely used of these pesticides, but there also is very widespread use of chemicals based on sulphur, arsenic, pyrethrins, cyanides, phenols and hormone compounds like 2-4D.

Some residues of these agricultural chemicals inevitably find their way into the food on your table. The Food and Drug Administration has established "tolerances" which limit the amount of such residues on food offered for sale in commercial channels. These tolerances generally provide a wide margin of safety. The rule of thumb is to determine how much of the chemical can be fed to laboratory animals without harm, and then allow only one one-hundredth of this amount in human food.

But recent research has raised questions about the adequacy of these tolerances. This research has shown that the harmful effects of some chemicals when used in combination are sharply multiplied by their interaction on each other. In other words, a "safe" intake of one chemical, plus a "safe" intake of another chemical, may add up to a potentially dangerous reaction.

This is one of the areas of "uncertainty" that food and drug scientists want to explore as soon as possible.

State's Costs In Occupational Diseases Higher

HARRISBURG (UP)—The combined appropriations committees of the House and Senate have been informed that the state's costs in occupational disease claims have increased by more than 700 per cent in the last two years.

Milton Weisberg, acting labor and industry secretary, told the group studying state budget needs for the next two years that such costs have gone from $1,025,000 in the last biennium to $8,600,000 in the current two-year period.

Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said Weisberg also estimated the occupational disease claim costs to the state would go to $15,000,000 in the next fiscal period.

According to Wood, Weisberg explained that employers are sharing the cost in only 1 per cent of occupational disease claims while the Commonwealth is footing the bill for 98 per cent. He said also that the number of successful claims rose from 30 to 35 per cent in the last biennium to 90 per cent currently.

Reenactment of Emergency Tax Is Criticized

PITTSBURGH (UP) — An official of the Pittsburgh Motor Club charged today that enactment of last year's state emergency gasoline tax for flood relief would be "a betrayal of the motorist."

Lewis W. McIntyre, PMC executive vice president, said in a statement there is no "factual support of reason" for extending the emergency gas tax.

Reports from Harrisburg have indicated that Gov. George M. Leader would like the present six-cents per gallon tax extended, McIntyre said. Under the emergency law, the tax would go back to five cents on Sept. 13.

"There is talk in Harrisburg that the one-cent emergency tax will be extended on the pretext that additional funds are needed to finance the Commonwealth's highway projects under the national highway program," McIntyre said.

McIntyre said the one-cent tax brings in about $29 million annually. He said such a large sum of money is not needed for the state's 10 per cent participation in the highway program to get 90 per cent federal aid.

Fired Hospital Workers Rehired

NANTICOKE, Pa. (UP) —Nine employes of the Nanticoke State Hospital, fired Feb. 15 by a new board of trustees, will be called back to work.

It was disclosed Tuesday that State Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro had cancelled the dismissals. The disclosure was made by A. L. Mitke, hospital superintendent, who said the trustees acted without his recommendation and without the approval of Shapiro.

Lukens Steel Has Highest Earnings

COATESVILLE, Pa. (UP) — The highest sales and earnings in the 147 year history of Lukens Steel Co. were reported today by Charles Lukens Huston Jr., president.

Huston reported that Lukens' net sales during 1956 were almost $105.2 million, with its net earnings climbing to a record $7.5 million. It is one of the nation's top three speciality steel plate producers.

Your Health—

Make Sure His Shoes Are the Proper Fit

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A large number of foot defects among children can be traced to faulty footwear.

Not only must you make sure your youngster has shoes of the proper size, you must also be certain the shoes are made correctly and of the right materials.

Heavy shoes appear to be more durable and you might be tempted to buy them on the theory that they won't wear out so quickly. But their very ruggedness might be injurious to your tot's feet.

Your youngster's feet, you must understand, are pretty plastic. They bend easily at the ball unless hampered by a firm substance such as a thick, heavy sole. Therefore, the soles of their shoes should be flexible.

I also suggest the soles be of a good grade leather and that the upper portions of the shoes be made of a supple leather such as kid.

This will permit the normal expansion of the growing foot as well as help prevent athlete's foot and other skin diseases.

Germs thrive where there is darkness, moisture and heat, and in heavy shoes you are likely to have all three So it's easy to see why feet need ventilation.

With the upper section of the shoes made of kid leather, your child's feet have a chance to "breathe."

The heels also should be of leather, according to the National Foot Health Council, with rubber top pieces. These rubber sections will help take up some of the shock experienced by any active youngster when playing and jumping about.

There's also another argument against getting heavy, sturdy shoes for your youngster. They may actually last too long. Even after a child has outgrown them they may still look good. It's important that no youngster be permitted to wear shoes that no longer fit.

The Stories of Zane Grey to Reappear on TV

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Television has revived Zane Grey's stories, and the house where they were written looks today as if the owner still were there to turn on his TV set.

On sound stage 11 at RKO-Pathe Studio, New York actors in five o'clock shadows and rented cowboy boots shoot it out in the best Zane Grey fashion on the dusty false-front sets for Friday's "Zane Grey Theater" (CBS-TV 8.30 EST).

Forty miles away in suburban Altadena sits the house where Zane Grey lived from 1920 until his death 17 years ago. It's a place far removed from television, the Wild West and 1957.

The huge beige stucco house with numerous wings and guest houses sprawls over 5½ acres in a neighborhood of faded mansions and rest sanitariums. Mrs. Grey, a sparkling lady who showed me around the place, has kept her home and its 1920 furnishings exactly as her famous husband left it.

Atop the piano is a blue tapestry carefully rumped in 1920 style. Grey's photograph in a silver frame stands there.

On the second-floor of the three-story home is Grey's studio—two mammoth rooms with beamed ceilings. His Morris chair with a lap board laid over the arms still stands by the fireplace. On the board are pages from one of his hand-written manuscripts as if he had just stepped from the room.

Six Straight Unbeaten Valley Fives

The last six teams to represent Section 5 in the WPIAL Basketball Tournament have taken undefeated league records to Pittsburgh. Charleroi represented the valley in 1952-53-57, while Monessen carried district colors in 1954-55-56. Last year's Greyhound quint was the only one in that group to advance to the finals . . . Incidentally the valley hasn't had a WPIAL basketball champion since way back in 1945 when Donora copped top honors. The Dragons that season lost out in the state title game to Allenport by two points . . . Starting time for Pirate games at Forbes Field this season will be 1:30 p. m. for weekdays, 8:15 p. m. for night games; 1:30 p. m. for opening day; 2:30 p. m. for Sunday single games; and 1 p. m. for double-headers.

* * *

In Charleroi, a Veterans Committee may turn over as much as $10,000 to help develop a baseball field in the Magic City's new park . . . John (Corky) DeMillion, Monessen High volleyball coach, has his work cut out for him. Only Carl Crawley returns from last year's fine club which won the state championship . . . Speaking of volleyball, it's always been a wonder to us why the sport hasn't won more spectator interest. It's an exciting game to watch and one which is unusually easy to follow.

Janosik Has Good Cage Record

Monessen High basketball coach Frank Janosik has been at the Monessen helm eleven seasons. His teams have never lost more than eight games in a single campaign. His overall record stands at 194 victories and just 59 losses. That chart takes on added significance when you consider that the Greyhounds, under Janosik, have never fattened up on soft-touch foes. The MHS boss beleives in playing the best . . . Speaking of records, McKeesport High basketball boss Neenie Campbell has directed his Tigers to 248 victories in 14 seasons. He's watched his club on the losing end just 73 times.

* * *

Our choice for top honors in the B division of the WPIAL Basketball Tournament is Wampum. We'll stick with Sharon in the A bracket . . . Milo Sewards, coach of the unbeaten Allentown High basketballers, declines to make a prediction on his team's tournament chances, but he does agree that it will take a good outfit to defeat his Canaries . . . Our sports department wound up guessing the winner in 138 scholastic basketball games this season. We miscued on 37, resulting in a .785 average . . . Student tickets to WPIAL Tournament games cost 55 cents. Adults general admission is $1.10 and adult reserved, $1.65.

Rostraver, Vernon Jrs. Make Money

According to James O. Leeper, Rostraver Junior High principal, his Little Leps and Vernon came out "ahead of the game, financially" when they staged their Section 3 playoff tilt at the Monessen High gym despite a $100 rental fee. "That may sound like a lot of money, but it was worth it," points out Leeper. "There are many hidden benefits in the rental. Then, too, Monessen is a great basketball town where fans will turn out for any good attraction. Even though we had hoped only to make expenses, both schools came out of the game with a tidy profit." . . . Incidentally it's our understanding that the Vernon and Rostraver shares after expenses came to over $100 each. Not bad at all for a Junior High attraction.

Kid Gavilan Still Fighting 'Real Good'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEWARK, N.J., (UP)—If you wondered what ever happened to Kid Gavilan, the Cuban Hawk is still fighting-real good.

The old man of the Sugar Cane Mountains tackled a young gent named Vince Martinez in the smoke - filled Newark Armory Tuesday night. And even with the Spanish surnames the "Keed" would have been a winner anywhere except in the Martinez back yard.

But Vince is from Paterson, N. J., and Gavilan hails from Cuba.

Did No Faking

Referee Joe Harrison voted Martinez the winner of the 10-round pier-sixer—six, three, and one even. The Kid may have been "robbed" better, but whoever did it had to carry a gun.

For years they have referred to Gavilan, the flat-featured tiger from the tropics, as "the magnificent faker." This was due to the fact that he fought one minute of each round and coasted the remainder.

But Gavilan did no faking Tuesday night as he fought three honest minutes every round and gave Martinez—five years and 50 fights younger—as much as he could handle.

The Kid still looked like a kid at what should be an over-the-hill 31. Possibly he is inspired now by the domestic and tax problems which have kept him commuting between no-place and obscurity since he lost the welterweight crown to Johnny Saxton three years ago.

Still Throws Bolo

He's still wasp-waisted and still uses that flashy bolo punch he always whipped up from the cellar. Only now, with time and the terror of poverty pressing in on him just as it did when he was a fresh kid out of the cane fields, Gavilan goes at it from bell to bell.

It couldn't save him against Martinez. The Keed should, at worst, have had no less than a draw.

The hometown gallery was screeching "send him back on a banana boat" in the ninth round. And, in the 10th, the Kid reacted by almost peeling Martinez.

So, if anybody asks you what happened to "Old Kid Gavilan," tell them he's still in action—real good.

Dodgers, Phils In Trade Talks

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UP)—E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is expected to resume trade talks with General Manager Roy Hamey of the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday at Clearwater.

The Phils reportedly are seeking Bob Lillis, a fancy-fielding shortstop the Dodgers promoted from St. Paul in the American Association. Brooklyn would like to pry loose some Philadelphia farm hands for their new Los Angeles club in the Pacific Coast League.

Hartack Rides Two More Winners

MIAMI, (UP)—Willie Hartack, thoroughbred racing's most successful jockey the past two years, ran his 1957 victory total to 51 in 35 days of riding Tuesday when he accounted for two more winners at Hialeah.

Cro-Ams At Donora Tomorrow

Coach Paul Kunsa's Monessen Cro-Ams will take time out from their City League championship series to test the touted Donora Croatian Club tomorrow.

The game will take place at 8 p. m. in the Donora High gym as part of a triple-header card. Proceeds will go toward the March of Dimes.

Both quints have unbeaten records at the moment. The Monessen boys have 17 victories in a row, while the Donorans boast 16 straight.

Needless to mention, the two teams are well on their way to City League titles in their respective communities.

Observers regard tomorrow's game as a tossup even though the Donorans will own the home floor advantage.

Other Games

Completing the basketball show will be games matching the Donora Catholic War Veterans against Monongahela NBC and the Donora City League All-Stars against the Pitt Gridders.

The former tussle will be for boys in the 11-13 age bracket while the latter will feature the Panther footballers who have proved so entertaining in other floor assignments this season.

The Monessen Cro-Ams will also play on Friday. That's when they resume their best-of-three title series with defending champion Viaduct. The Cro-Ams drew first blood in that bout last Saturday, hammering Viaduct, 70-44.

Lockman to Have Competition Reveals Rigney

PHOENIX, Ariz., (UP)—Whitey Lockman will have to fight it out with two other candidates before regaining his old first baseman's post with the New York Giants, Manager Bill Rigney indicated today.

Lockman, traded to the St Louis Cardinals last season in a seven-player deal, returned to the Giants Tuesday in a no-cash trade that sent veteran relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm to St. Louis.

Rigney explained that Lockman wouldn't be assigned his old spot at first base without first earning it.

"Gail Harris still is our No. 1 first base candidate," he added. "And the fact that we have Lockman back does not change my plans to give (third baseman) Foster Castleman a crack at first base and left field."

The straight player trade also should help the Cardinals, who needed a veteran like Wilhelm to bolster their bullpen staff. The 33-year-old right-hander enjoyed his greatest season with the Giants in 1952, whn he led the National League with an earned-run average of 2.43 while winning 15 games and losing three. He had a 4-9 record last year.

Marion Ready To Buy Lakers

NEW YORK, (UP)—Unless a Minneapolis civic group can match his $150.000 offer by March 13, former big league manager Marty Marion will become owner of the Minneapolis Lakers pro basketball team and move it elsewhere.

Marion and his associate, Milton Fischmann, agreed with Lakers' owner Ben Berger Tuesday on a "provisional" sale of the National Basketball Association club.

The provision is that the Minneapolis group gets until March 13 for its effort to keep the team in that city. If the civic group fails, then Marion and Fischmann say they will move the team "to Kansas City or possibly some other city."

VETERAN MHS SCOREKEEPER — This is Larry Pfeister, who has scored every Monessen High basketball game for the past 15 seasons. Employed in the Page plant of the Monessen American Chain and Cable Co., Pfeister is also a familiar figure at MHS football games. For the last dozen campaigns, he's been in charge of the sticks. His brother, Steve, is chairman of the city's Recreation Board.

Ozarks Add Beauty Contest to Tourney

There will be more than basketball at the Monessen High gym from March 19 through 29 when the Ozarks stage their sixth annual Mon Valley Tournament.

The upcoming floor show will also include a real, honest-to-goodness, beauty contest.

"Of course, we'll keep everything dignified," hastened tourney director Tony Mascetta. "What we're really trying to do is select a queen for our tournament.

According to Mascetta district high schools will be asked to nominate their prettiest senior girl. The nominees will then compete against each other during the tourney.

"We will present the winner with a gold wrist watch," said Mascetta. "The selection will be made on the basis of beauty and personality."

Complete in Gowns

There will be no bathing suit parades, according to the Ozarks. The girls will compete in gowns.

The runners-up will also receive awards.

The 1957 tournament will begin March 19 and take place every other night through the 29th.

As usual, the event has been split into junior and senior divisions. Eighteen is the age limit which divides the two classes.

"A couple of district college teams have already entered under commercial names," said Mascetta. "It looks like we'll have another quality field."

Schenley Cager Tallies 57 Points

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Gene Harris, Schenley High ace, set a Pittsburgh City League individual scoring record Tuesday when he tallied 57 points against Washington Vocational.

Harris' total, bettering the previous record set in 1949, was more than that of the entire Washington team. Schenley won, 94-48.

Champions were crowned in both sections of the City League Tuesday. Fifth Avenue won the Section 1 title and Oliver the Section 2 title. The same teams held the titles last season.

Racing Track Owner on Trial In Miami, Fla.

MIAMI (UP)— The figure of "Trigger Mike" Cappola presented a new question for heavy-betting Saul Silberman, Tropical Park race track president, to answer when he takes the stand today before the Florida Racing Commission.

Silberman, in hot water with the commission because he bet heavily "on credit" at his race track and permitted his private telephone to be used for calls to a convicted Cleveland bookie, was expected to testify shortly after the hearing resumes at 1 p.m.

The name of Cappola, identified as a Miami bookmaker who has been banned from entering several race tracks, cropped up in testimony of the last witness Tuesday.

John F. Loome, Baltimore agent in charge of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau which runs the security setup at Tropical, disclosed in his testimony as a defense witness that "Trigger Mike" had shown up at Tropical this season Cappola had been ejected from the race track during the 1955-56 season.

Tossed Out

Loome said when he reported to Silberman that Cappola was back, the track president replied he "wanted him to stay." The security officer then advised Silberman to check with officials of the protective bureau in New York and afterward Silberman agreed to have Cappola tossed out of the track again.

But the attorneys said the state had failed to show any "willful violations" of law or racing regulations by Silberman.

Ford City Edges Out Redstone in Tourney

By UNITED PRESS

Baldwin defeated Monaca, 51-47, in overtime and Ford City edged Redstone, 39-38, Tuesday night in the opening games of the 49th annual WPIAL basketball tournament.

The games were played as a doubleheader at the Pitt Field House in Pittsburgh.

In the nightcap, forward Gene Lazaroff of Ford City, Section 1, tipped in a rebound with about a minute to go to score the winning points over Redstone, Section 11. The game was tied eight times, the last time at 35-35 with three minutes remaining.

Redstone forward Sam Canistra was the game's high scorer with 15 points. Norman Edwards led the winners with 12. Ford City led at halftime, 17-13.

Timura led the winners with 12 points. Monaca, which led at halftime, 27-26, was paced by Nick Cutich with 17.

Baldwin and Ford City will meet in a second-round game at the Field House March 7.

In two playoff games to decide sectional titles, Tarentum defeated Freeport, 56-47, at Arnold and Perryopolis beat Irwin, 73-66, at Connellsville.

Tarentum's win gave the school the championship in Section 12. The Redcats will meet Uniontown, Section 2, in a first-round game at the Field House March 5.

Perryopolis earned the right to meet West Newton Saturday night for the Section 17 title. The regular season had ended in a three-way deadlock for the section lead

Boston Red Sox' Jim Piersall Still Holds Out

By UNITED PRESS

Jimmy Piersall, the Boston Red Sox' all-out outfielder, was classified officially as a hold out along with five teammates today as the American League's perennial pennant contenders opened spring training at Sarasota, Fla.

In addition to the fleet, cocky Piersall, infielders Ted Lepcio and Billy Klaus, outfielder Gene Stephens, catcher Sammy White and pitcher Rudy Minarcin also were unsigned when the Bosox went through their initial drill under Manager Mike Higgins.

Although disappointed over the absence of Piersall, Higgins still had "the big guy" around to lead the Bosox through their first limbering up exercises. Ted Williams said he was feeling "fit as a fiddle" for the start of his 15th season "and rarin" to go."

Six Braves Unsigned

Meanwhile, the Milwaukee Braves also had six players unsigned as they approach the official opening of their spring drills Friday. Veteran right-hander Lew Burdette conferred with General Manager John Quinn Tuesday at Bradenton, Fla., but did not agree to terms.

Outfielder Bill Bruton and shortstop Johnny Logan still are at their Milwaukee homes and giving every indication of holding out past the Friday deadline. The other unsigned Braves are outfielder Wes Covington, first baseman Frank Torre and pitcher Ernie Johnson.

Scholastic Cager Scores 92 Points

CONFLUENCE, Pa. (UP)—Mike Kasmick, Shade Central High senior, tied the state scholastic single-game scoring record of 92 points Tuesday night when the Panthers defeated winless Turkeyfoot Valley, 107-38 in this Somerset County community.

The record had been set on Feb. 19 by Bob Mullery, St. Vincent High, Plymouth. The former record of 90 was set by Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain with Overbrook High, Philadelphia, in 1955.

Kasnick hit on 41 field goals and 10 fouls. He has scored 680 points in 23 games.

Martinez Beats Kid Gavilan in Slam-Bang Bout

NEWARK, N.J. (UP)— Welterweight contender Vince Martinez wasn't a very popular victor over the rejuvenated Kid Gavilan, but he was thrust forward today as a $100,000-guarantee challenger for either the welterweight or middleweight titles by elated New Jersey promoters.

He was also considered for a return bout with either of the ex-welter champions, Gavilan or Tony DeMarco.

Cuban Gavilan, 31, was yelling for another fight with Martinez of Paterson, N.J., and he deserved the rematch because of his magnificent performance in Tuesday night's wham-bam brawl before a near-capacity 8,527 in the big Newark Armory.

Despite a rainy night they drew $35,920 — Newark's largest fight gate in nine years.

The money for this non-televised bout was not mis-spent; for Gavilan — fighting well throughout—staged an electrifying finish that had 27-year-old Martinez lurching about the ring on rubber legs at times in the ninth and 10th rounds. And the unusually rugged "Keed" had survived punches in the earlier rounds that would have felled a steer.

Martinez, scaling 149½ pounds to Gavilan's 148¾ and favored at 3-1, won the referee's decision. There are no judges in New Jersey. On a rounds basis, Referee Joey Harrison of Garfield, N.J., gave the decision to Vince: 6-3-1. It was booed for five minutes by the fans.

A United Press poll of 17 sports writers at the ringside favored Gavilan, 11-4-2. The United Press had the fight scored even on rounds, but favored Martinez because of his consistently harder punching throughout.

Calhoun Meets Cotton Tonight

DENVER (UP)—Tonight's "all-important" middleweight bout between fifth ranked Rory Calhoun and Charley Cotton shapes up to be another test between the slugger and the boxer.

Both fighters agreed the verdict could mean a big step toward a title bout with champion Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah.

Cotton came to Denver originally to fight Fullmer in a non-title match, but the champion had to withdraw from the bout because of a cut eye suffered last week in his fight with Ernie Durando.

Calhoun is expected to be a heavy favorite by fight time.

Palmerton Suffers Surprise Setback

By BURTON SIGLIN

Palmerton and Coal Township, two of Pennsylvania's top schoolboy basketball teams, were shocked by determined foes Tuesday in major surprises at the tail end of their regular seasons.

Whitehall knocked off Palmerton, 59-57, and forced the Bombers into a playoff for the Lehigh Valley League second half title next Friday.

Much-beaten Williamsport got some consolation out of a poor season by ending Coal Township's 19-game winning streak and handing the Purple Demons their first loss of the season, 39-38.

At the same time Yeadon and Reading clinched eastern playoff spots while Fifth Avenue and Oliver captured sectional titles in the Pittsburgh City League and set up their playoff for the District 8 diadem.

Palmerton, which lost in last year's state finals, failed to make a 36-23 halftime lead stand up as Whitehall came with a rush in the third period. With 57 seconds to go the game was tied when S. Sousa tossed in a 15-foot fielder and D. Fahringer followed with two fouls to give Whitehall a four-point lead which made a 1st-ditch Palmerton goal useless.

Unexpected Loss

Coal Township's loss to Williamsport was unexpected because the Purple Demons had hammered the same team by 27 points in their first meeting.

Reading, which is still unbeaten in Central Penn League play, is assured of representing the circuit in the statewide playoffs because Milton Hershey, which still has a chance for the second-half title, does not belong to the PIAA. The two teams are deadlocked in the second half race with six wins each.

Yeadon's 71-48 victory over Radnor gave the victor's the pennant in Section 2 of the Philadelphia Suburban League. Chester took the Secion 1 crown last week.

Clearfield clinched no worse than a tie for its District 9 Class A League honors by upsetting Punxsutawney, 65-48. The league champion is the District 9 representative in the playoffs.

Fifth Avenue captured Secion 1 honors in the Pittsburgh City League with an 81-53 convincer over Allderdice. Oliver repeated as the Section 2 titlist by felling South Hills, 59-47.

Playoffs Begin

The first playoffs to get under way saw Ford City and Baldwin wrap up close games in the WPIAL tournament. Forward Gene Lazaroff made Ford City a 39-38 winner over Redstone by tipping in a last-minute rebound Baldwin achieved a 51-47 victory over Monaca's Section 8 champs in an overtime contest.

Tarentum won a playoff for the Section 12 title, downing Rreeport, 56-47, while Perryopolis captured the first game to break a three-way first place tie for the Section 17 title by upsetting Irwin, 73-66. The winners now meet West Newton on Saturday for the section crown.

Chambersburg's 77-57 victory over Waynesboro gave the Trojans the lead in the second half of the South Penn League. Hanover won the first half crown.

The second half race in the Susquehanna Valley League wound up in a four-way tie among Lewisburg, Bloomsburg Mifflinburg and Danville. Bloomsburg is the first-half king.

Paulettes Win in Croatian Bowling

Paulettes took a pair from the Gerrettes and Bendettes topped the Babettes twice in Croatian Ladies League bowling last night.

Top scorers were Jane Popovich, 173-452; Vilma Gagatko, 187-413; Loil Mihalich, 153-366; Frances Yahovac, 128-360.

Standings show Gerrettes, 16-8; Babettes, 12-12; Paulettes, 12-12; and Bendettes, 8-16.

Amps Roll on In Electric Loop

Amps whitewashed the Watts and Volts won a pair from the Ohms in Blooming Mill Electric League bowling last night.

Scoring leaders were Ray Calderone, 196-501; Cy Brown, 187-486; Pat Spadafore, 214-457; Andy Drahobecky, 168-443.

Chamberlain to Go to Philly

NEW YORK (UP)—The National Basketball Association club owners, in their annual February meeting here, have reaffirmed the Philadelphia Warriors' draft rights to Wilt Chamberlain once he has been graduated from the University of Kansas.

No Evidence to Support Rumors Against Official

ST. LOUIS, (UP)—Missouri valley Conference officials turned up no leads today to a rumored gambling connection by a suspended referee.

The league president, the Rev. Charles L. Sanderson of St. Louis University, refused to name the referee. He said, "The conference decided not to reveal the name of the official and we will continue that policy."

Commissioner Artie Eilers, in Chicago to run down accusers of the referee, found no evidence to support the rumors.

The referee was suspended after the president of Wichita University reported rumors that Wichita, moving up toward the valley basketball championship until a few days ago, was slated to lose its next three games.

'Biased' Whistle

The referee, assigned to work all three games, was to use a "biased" whistle to control the point spread issued by basketball handicappers operating out of Minneapolis, according to rumors.

The official worked the first game, but was withdrawn from the next two, although he received his usual fee.

Coaches in the game gave him a high rating, the referee said. He added that he did not know how the rumors started and he was willing to appear before any investigative body to clarify the situation.

Eilers said the referee had a reputation for independence and ability, and may be the victim of a "whispering campaign."

Coach Blames His Woes on Touch Football

LEXINGTON, Va., (UP) — Bill Chipley, who was fired as head football coach of the "de-emphasized" Washington and Lee Generals Tuesday after losing 14 of his past 15 games, blamed part of his troubles today on an interfraternity touch football league.

The football players were more interested in playing for the fraternities than for Washington and Lee, he told the United Press.

Chipley, 35, an All-Southern Conference end at W&L in 1946, took over as head of the university's de-emphasized and non-subsidized team in 1954 after the university had gone one season without a team.

Although it played only small-time opponents—teams W&L could have licked without pushing before de-emphasis—Chipley's 1954 edition lost all seven games, scoring only four touchdowns. In 1956, the Generals beat only little Sewannee in an eight-game schedule and pushed their two-year record to 1-15.

Dukes Tourney Hopes Dim as Few Spots Remain

By UNITED PRESS

The post-season tournament hopes of Duquesne and Pittsburgh dimmed somewhat Tuesday when Washington & Jefferson (13-4) and St. Peter's of Jersey City was entered in the NIT and Syracuse in the NCAA post-season events.

Duquesne still was in the running for the NIT, in which nine of the 12 berths have been filled. The Dukes have beaten three teams entered in the tournament.

Pitt, which defeated Syracuse easily here, is hopeful of a bid from the NCAA, which still has 12 of 23 berths open.

Other tournament developments Tuesday saw the selection of four schools to compete for the NAIA District 30 (Pennsylvania) championship and the right to represent the district in the national tourney at Kansas City in March.

Those selected were Geneva (15-7), Indiana Teachers (14-5), Millersville Teachers (16-5). It will be the sixth straight NAIA tournament for Geneva.

Wash-Jeff will meet Indiana at Mt. Lebanon, near Pittsburgh, in the opening game Saturday. The winner will play Geneva at Westminster College on March 5 with the survivor playing Millersville on a neutral court not yet selected.

In games played Tuesday night, Slippery Rock defeated Thiel, 96-65, Alliance edged Edinboro Teachers, 96-94, and Clarion Teachers defeated Allegheny, 82-64.

Rosenbluth, Wallace Bring New Cage Honors to Carolinas

By UNITED PRESS

Lennie Rosenbluth, a Dixie basketball star who grew up in the shadow of Yankee Stadium, and Grady Wallace, a Kentucky-bred jump-shooter, brought new court honors to the Carolinas today.

Rosenbluth had all the clutch points in his bag of 30 Tuesday night to lead North Carolina to a dramatic 69-64 victory over Wake Forest — putting the nation's No. 1 team just one more win away from a perfect season.

And Wallace, racking up 39 points for South Carolina in a 98-96 triumph over The Citadel, recaptured the national basketball scoring lead from Mississippi's Joe Gibbon.

One To Go

North Carolina's win at Winston-Salem gave Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels a 23-0 record for the season and left only a Friday night game against Duke on the irregular schedule. Then they go into the Atlantic Coast Conference post-season tournament, March 7-9.

Wallace, a product of Mare Creek, Ky., pushed his scoring average to 30.48 points with his latest splurge. The idle Gibbon dropped to second at 30.3 Gibbon has only one more game—Thursday night against Mississippi State. Wallace will play against Clemson Saturday and then, like North Carolina, he goes into the ACC tourney.

Elgin Baylor of Seattle scored a whopping 51 points Tuesday night in a 105-95 victory over Portland to jump from fourth place to third in the scoring derby. Baylor winds up his regular season tonight against the same team—and 40 points will put him ahead of Wallace.

Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas (29.2) dropped from third to fourth and is idle tonight. Chet Forte of Columbia (28 95) plays against Cornell tonight.

UCLA Upset Victim

In Tuesday night's top conference game, Southern California upset UCLA, the nation's No. 5 team, 84-80. The loss, only the third in 23 games for UCLA, left California alone in first place in the Pacific Coast Conference.

In other leading games: Southwest Conference champion SMU drubbed Texas Christian, 88-75, as big Jim Krebs tallied 32 points; John Smyth's 26 points led Notre Dame to a 75-56 victory over Marquette; NCAA-bound Connecticut trounced Holy Cross, 97-80; and Navy edged Delaware, 79-76.

Syracuse (14-5) was added to the field for the NCAA tournament Tuesday and St. Peter's (17-3) to the National Invitation. The NCAA now has filled 11 of its 23 berths; the NIT nine of its 12. The three remaining NIT spots are expected to be filled from a group that includes the runners-up in the Skyline and Missouri Valley conferences, Temple, St. Joseph's, and Duquesne.

Four tourney-bound teams will play tonight: Dayton (NIT) vs. Toledo, Syracuse (NCAA) vs. Niagara, Seattle (NIT) vs. Portland, and Xavier of Ohio (NIT) vs. Western Kentucky. Louisville, last year's NIT champion and ranked 10th nationally this year but under NCAA ban from tourney play, will meet DePaul.

Pirates Sign Service Star

PITTSBURGH (UP)— The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Tuesday the signing of shortstop Robert F. Petrillo, 23, East Boston, Mass., to a minor league contract.

Petrillo, who played service ball while stationed with the Army at Ft. Sill, Okla., the past two years, will report to the Beaumont, Tex., club in the Class B Big State League.

Name Cagers

NEW YROK (UP) — Gary Thompson of Iowa State and Jimmy Krebs of Southern Methodist became the first players named for the West squad today for the annual East-West All-Star Basketball Game at Madison Square Garden, March 30.

Big Diamond Is Completed

NEW YORK (UP) — One of the world's largest perfect diamonds—a 130-carat blue - white stone—was "born" today on a gem-polishing wheel at a midtown jewelers.

Diamond cutter Bernard Dehaan put the finishing touches on the nameless stone at Harry Winston Inc. in preparation for its public debut Wednesday. Winston values the diamond at more than $2 million.

It took Dehaan more than a year to cut the fiery, pearshaped gem from a 426-carat unpolished South African diamond purchased by Winston in 1955. Two smaller diamonds also were cut from the mother stone.

Death Cancels 75th Anniversary Party March 9

PONTIAC, Mich. (UP)— Death has cancelled the 75th wedding anniversary celebration planned by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Church to which President and Mrs. Eisenhower and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Church were married at Bad Axe, Mich., in 1882 and were to have celebrated 75 years of married life March 9.

But Mrs. Church, 92, died Tuesday, whereupon the reception planned by the mayor of Bad Axe and the Church's three sons, daughter, 11 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren was cancelled.

The 96-year-old Church said his wife was wearing her third wedding ring when she died. She had worn out two others.

It is estimated that 37 per cent of Americans buy tickets in church raffles.

Fire Auxiliary Meets; Routine Reports Heard

Mrs. Honor Hamer, president, was in charge of the Monday evening meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Washington Township Fire Co. held in the fire hall. Chaplain Edna Axton conducted the opening and led in the flag salute.

Routine reports were given and the sick visitation committee reported that Mrs. Ruth Palfrey is a patient in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital and Mrs. Wilson, who is visiting in Waynesburg, is ill at the home of her daughter.
